Warrior Writers, Veteran Alumni of Rutgers University, and the Writers House present a writing workshop for veterans and a performance of veterans' writing.

The workshop offers prompts that cover a variety of military issues and experiences. Workshops are for any service member or veteran regardless of previous experiences with writing or art, combat or deployment. All veterans are welcome; priority will be given to Rutgers students and alumni. Refreshments will be served.

Please also join us for a poetry reading featuring longtime Warrior Writers artists from the Philadelphia and New Jersey areas, as well as emerging veteran writers.
